

Our Specialists May Be Able to Prevent Disaster

You might even be able to get help before damage occurs. Certain damage can be avoided by evaluating the building, and looking for trouble spots. That's part of my job — working in partnership with loss control safety engineering specialists to help you maintain a safe business environment.

Allstate also has a safety hotline — the Allstate Safety LineSM — that's backed up by loss control specialists who will contact you within 24 hours of your call. So if you have questions that you'd like to ask about reducing your risks, our toll free number is available to you. The Allstate Safety LineSM phone number is 1-800-877-6998.

I'm in the Neighborhood

I'd like to talk to you about your current insurance plan to see if a Customizer policy might make your job a little easier. I'm in your neighborhood, so I'll be happy to talk with you at any time. We can evaluate the property and decide what you need, and don't need, in an insurance policy.

I've attached my business card so you can call me at your convenience if you'd like to talk about insuring your property with Allstate. Better yet, stop by if you're in the neighborhood. I'll be happy to talk with you at any time.

To Get Ahead, You Have to Plan Ahead

Wouldn't it be nice to know in advance what might cause damage to your building so you could prevent the damage from occurring in the first place? And if the building was damaged, what if you knew that one of the largest teams of claim specialists in the country was on call to help evaluate and expedite the repair of this damage? Wouldn't you feel more secure?

As a property owner or manager, you have a responsibility to take care of your tenants' best interests. They depend on you to maintain the building and solve problems should something go wrong.

I Understand the Risks You Face

Like you, people depend on me to help them take care of problems when they occur. I understand your position, and I can help you manage the risks you face by offering you appropriate insurance coverage.

A Not-So-Common Insurance Policy Designed Specifically for Your Needs

Allstate has a business insurance policy that's just right for your building. It's called the Customizer policy because it's tailor-made to fit the specific insurance needs of your building. You can pick and choose the appropriate coverages, and only pay for those that you need. You can also add special coverages to protect the things that are unique to your building.

Service That Can Get You Back in Business

Choosing the right coverages is only the first step in creating a comprehensive insurance program. The second step is providing hassle-free, personalized claims service that's immediately responsive to your needs as a property owner or manager. After all, the tenants are counting on you to repair the damage as quickly as possible so that they can get back to business. So whenever you have a claim, someone will be available to help you solve the problem as quickly and efficiently as possible.
